

Class Assignment - Logic Puzzle

In history class, 5 students were given extra credit assignments. Each had to pick a past President of the United States and give a short speech about him. Each student picked a different president. Each presentation was a different length, and no two students received the same grade. From the following clues, determine which student spoke about which President, how long each spoke, and the grade they received.

1. Eric did not give a presentation on President Carter.
2. The student whose presentation lasted 15 minutes received a C.
3. Of the student whose presentation lasted 15 minutes, and the student who received a C-, one was Josh, and the other gave a presentation on President Hoover.
4. Eric's presentation lasted 11 minutes.
5. The student who spoke about President Johnson spoke 4 minutes less than the student who received a B.
6. Of the student who spoke for 7 minutes, and the student who got an A on their assignment, one spoke about President Reagan and the other was Eric
7. Of the five students, there was Paul, the student whose presentation lasted 7 minutes, the student who received an A, the student who received a C- and the student who spoke the longest.
8. The student whose presentation was on President Johnson spoke 2 minutes longer than Jack
